POLICY TITLE:	Equality & Diversity
Persons Responsible for Policy:	Julian Alsop- Director Nicola Palmer- Operations Manager
Date due for review:	28-09-2022
Date reviewed:	02-07-22

MIAG recognises that it is essential to provide equal opportunities to all persons without discrimination, harassment or victimisation. This policy sets out the organisation's position on Equality and Diversity as a service provider in all aspects of employment, including recruitment and promotion and provides guidance and encouragement to employees at all levels to act fairly and prevent discrimination on the grounds of any protected characteristic.

This policy lays the basis of MIAG Equality Scheme and should be read in conjunction with the Child Protection, SEN and Data-protection policies. The Equality Act 2010 brought together all previous equality related legislation, standardising the protection available for all groups previously identified.

Rationale

The key characteristics of groups protected are as follows:

- Gender
- Race
- Marital status including civil partnership
- Pregnancy and maternity
- Disability
- Age

- Sexual orientation
- Religion or belief
- Gender reassignment

Definitions

- Discrimination can be direct, indirect, by association or perceived. All forms of discrimination must be avoided.
- Direct discrimination occurs when one person is treated less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic they have.
- Perception discrimination occurs when one person is treated less favourably than another person because of a protected characteristic they are thought to have.
- Discrimination by association occurs when one person is treated less favourably than another person because they associate with someone who has a protected characteristic.
- Harassment can be either directly by an employee or group of employees of the organisation or through a third party such as other related party e.g. another learner.
- Victimisation occurs when an employee is treated badly because they have made or supported a complaint or raised a grievance under the Equality Act; or because they are suspected of doing so.
 - Indirect discrimination can occur when there is a condition, rule or policy or even a practice in the company that applies to everyone but particularly disadvantages people who share a protected characteristic. It may be justifiable if it can be shown it was fair and reasonable to the running of the organisation.

Statements

MIAG recognise that discrimination is unacceptable and although equality of opportunity has been a long-standing feature of our MIAG practices and procedure, we have made the decision to adopt a formal equal opportunities policy. Breaches of the policy will lead to disciplinary proceedings and, if appropriate, disciplinary action.

The aim of the policy is to ensure no job applicant, employee or student is discriminated against either directly or indirectly on the grounds of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy or maternity, race, religion or belief, sex or sexual orientation.

MIAG will ensure that the policy is circulated to any agencies responsible for our recruitment and a copy of the policy will be made available for all employees and made known to all applicants for employment.

The policy will be communicated to all private contractors reminding them of their responsibilities towards the equality of opportunity.

MIAG will maintain a neutral working environment in which no employee or student feels under threat or intimidated.

Recruitment and Selection

The recruitment and selection process are crucially important to any equal opportunities policy. MIAG will endeavour through appropriate training to ensure that employees making selection and recruitment decisions will not discriminate, whether consciously or unconsciously, in making these decisions.

Promotion and advancement will be made on merit and all decisions relating to this will be made within the overall framework and principles of this policy.

Job descriptions, where used, will be revised to ensure that they are in line with MIAG equal opportunities policy. Job requirements will be reflected accurately in any personnel specifications.

MIAG will adopt a consistent, non-discriminatory approach to the advertising of vacancies.

MIAG will not confine our recruitment to areas or media sources which provide only, or mainly, applicants of a group. All applicants who apply for jobs with MIAG will receive fair treatment and will be considered solely on their ability to do the job.

All employees involved in the recruitment process will periodically review their selection criteria to ensure that they are related to the job requirements and do not unlawfully discriminate.

Short listing and interviewing will be carried out by more than one person where possible. Interview questions will be related to the requirements of the job and will not be of a discriminatory nature.

MIAG will not disqualify any applicant because he/she is unable to complete an application form unassisted unless personal completion of the form is a valid test of the standard of English required for the safe and effective performance of the job.

Selection decisions will not be influenced by any perceived prejudices of other staff.

Monitoring

We will maintain and review the employment records of all employees in order to monitor the progress of this policy. Monitoring may involve:

- The collection and classification of information regarding the race in terms of ethnic/national origin and sex of all applicants and current employees
- The examination by ethnic/national origin and sex of the distribution of employees and the success rate of the applicants
- Recording recruitment, training and promotional records of all employees, the decisions reached and the reason for those decisions.

The results of any monitoring procedure will be reviewed at regular intervals to assess the effectiveness of the implementation of this policy. Consideration will be given, if necessary, to adjusting this policy to afford greater equality of opportunities to all applicants and staff.
