What is feedback?

At MIAG (Meeting Individual Aspirations & Goals) we think that feedback is important. Feedback is when a member of staff talks to you about your work. It helps you understand:

- ✚ What you've done well ✓
  - ✚ What you can do better next time 📊
  - ✚ How to move forward with your learning 🚀

Why do we give feedback at MIAG?

At MIAG, feedback is used to:

- ✚ Help you learn and grow
  - ✚ Make you feel proud of what you've done
  - ✚ Show you that your work matters
  - ✚ Support your goals and progress
  - ✚ Build confidence in yourself

How do we give feedback?

We give feedback in different ways to suit you:

Verbal feedback

- ✚ This means we talk to you about your work
- ✚ It's quick, clear, and helpful
- ✚ You can ask questions and share your ideas too

Written feedback

- ✚ Sometimes we write short comments on your work
- ✚ These are kind, honest, and helpful
- ✚ You might see simple words or symbols to show what went well and what to improve

Peer and self-feedback

- ✚ Sometimes you'll be asked to check your own work
- ✚ You might also give kind, helpful feedback to others

What tools do we use to make it easier?

We use colours, stickers, and symbols to make feedback easy to understand:

Tool:	What it means?
Purple Pen	You have been able to listen to feedback and have made amendments to your work to improve
Green for Growth	Where your adult has provided you with feedback for improvement
Reward stamps	For great effort, attitude, improvement and/or progress

What if I find feedback hard?

That's OK. Everyone learns in their own way.

-  Staff will give you feedback kindly and when you're ready to hear it
  -  You won't be made to feel embarrassed
  -  We'll help you understand and take small steps forward.

Your role in feedback:

-  Try your best to listen to feedback
  -  Ask questions if you're not sure
  -  Use feedback to help you improve your next piece of work

When do we give feedback?

-  Often straight after you've done the work
  -  During lessons, while you're working
  -  In reviews or when we talk about your goals

Remember:

Feedback is there to help you grow. We believe in you.
